

Philip Levy, MD, MACE

Dr. Levy is a Clinical Professor of Medicine at the University of Arizona College of Medicine, and was past Chairman of the Section of Endocrinology and Metabolism at Banner University Medical Center in Phoenix, Arizona, as well as past Chief of Staff and past Chairman of Medicine. He is a practicing Endocrinologist with the Banner University Medical Group. He had practiced Clinical Endocrinology at Phoenix Endocrinology Clinic, LTD in Phoenix for more than 40 years. Dr. Levy graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine in Pittsburgh, PA. He completed his Internship, Internal Medicine Residency, and Fellowship in Metabolism and Endocrinology at Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center in Chicago, Illinois. Dr. Levy was a Research Fellow in Endocrinology at Guy's Hospital Medical Center in London, England.

Dr. Levy served on the American Association of Clinical Endocrinologists (AACE) Board of Directors for six years, is past President of the American College of Endocrinology and was Editor-in-Chief of The First Messenger. He is past President and Founding Member of the Board of Directors of the Arizona Diabetes Association (ADA). Dr. Levy is an active member of AACE, American Medical Association and ADA in numerous capacities. He is a past member of The American Diabetes Association Board of Directors. He was also an Arizona Division of Motor Vehicles Medical Advisory Board Member, member of the Arizona Blue Shield, The Endocrine Society, American College of Physicians, Society of Nuclear Medicine, Arizona Medical Association, Clinical Endocrinology Editorial Board, and Endocrine Today Editorial Board. Dr. Levy is former Diabetes Forecast Editor-in-Chief and Clinical Diabetes Editorial Board Member. He is a past Editorial Board Member of Endocrine Practice. He is also a life member of the National Registry of Who's Who. He is a Senior Editor of Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism Case Reports.

Dr. Levy was presented the AACE Yank D. Coble, Jr., M.D., Distinguished Service Award in 2000 and the Master of the American College of Endocrinology Award in 2008. He recently was honored by the Arizona Chapter of AACE for his outstanding contributions to Endocrinology.

Disclosure: Philip Levy, MD, MACE

Honorarium and Speaker's Bureau: Janssen

Consultant: Sanofi, Novo Nordisk